Conference “Exploitative Sham Marriages: Exploring the Links between Trafficking in Human Beings and Sham Marriages”

Project HESTIA “Preventing human trafficking and sham marriages: A multidisciplinary solution”

Agreement No: HOME/2013/ISEC/AG/THB/4000005845

Riga, Latvia, 14 – 15 November 2016, Hotel “Avalon Hotel”, 13.janvāra str 19

AGENDA

The conference aims at raising awareness on the nexus between human trafficking and exploitative sham marriages and at providing a platform to share the findings and expertise gained from the two year project. The conference further endeavors to create a shared understanding of this new aspect of trafficking in human beings and to initiate a comprehensive action for its prevention.

The event's specific objectives include:

- To enhance knowledge and awareness of trafficking in human beings with a focus on human trafficking for the purposes of sham marriages as a new form of trafficking.
- To acknowledge the sham marriages as a risk factor in human trafficking amongst policy makers and the general public.
- To identify common challenges in preventing human trafficking as well as successful practices to counter trafficking in human beings at the European Union level and to improve international cooperation and international networks.

Conference venue: Hotel “Avalon Hotel”, 13.janvāra str 19
